Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT the advertising columns are the buyers guide because in them you will not find poor goods advertised, but you will find the names of firms who sell good goods cheap.

THAT one of the best ways to build a city is for the citizens to unite on building up home institutions.

THAT a campaign of education to teach the importance of the home city should be put on in many cities.

THAT too many people make their living in a city and spend most all they make in some other city.

THAT outside concerns pay no taxes in your city, all they do is to take away and put nothing back.

THAT it is always better to oil the machinery that builds the home city than to grease the wheels that build some other city and kills yours. BUY AT HOME!

THAT the people who have pride in the home city and want to see it progress—who want to see their city kept out of the rut—who want to help instead of hinder—have the proper spirit—THEY BUY AT HOME.

THAT a man who thinks first of the home city is to be admired—the man who does not is to be despised.

Good citizens have the interest of their home city at heart and they appreciate the blessings their city offers and they are engaging with others to make the home city bigger and better.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON—Old-timers in Kansas, whose crops were devastated by the plague of grasshoppers which swept the prairies in 1874, couldn't, of course, know that they were simply paying, in advance, the price of making a Kansas boy majority leader in the United States Senate in 1921.

Students of cause and effect, however, if they will examine the facts, must inevitably decide that is exactly what happened.

For if it hadn't been, for the grasshoppers, Charley Curtis would not have severed, when he did, his life with the Kansas tribe of Indians, and the whole course of his later years probably would have been changed.

YOUNG CURTIS was at that time a lad of 14. He had lived intermittently, following his mother's death when he was three, with his father's folks in Topeka and with his mother's people in the Kansas tribe of Indians. During this period his maternal grand-mother, Julie Pappen, who was one-half Indian, was his constant guide and counselor.

He had attended the mission school at the Kansas Indian Reservation, when with his grand-mother, and the town grammar school when in Topeka.

When the grass-hopper plague hit the state, however, the Indians decided on an exodus down into the Indian Territory, where the pastures had not been stripped. It was determined Charley should go with his maternal grandparents.

One night while they were in camp about six miles east of Topeka, with everything ready for hitting the trail for the "Territory," Grandmother Pappen called the boy to her. Briefly, she told him that while he was one-eighth Indian he was seven-eighths white, and that if he expected to make a success in life he must cast his lot with the white men. She urged him to stay in Topeka, go to school and make something of himself.

CHARLEY stayed. He sold fruit at trains and did odd jobs to earn money through that winter.

Next spring he got a job riding running horses and soon branched out as a full-fledged jockey. His success in the saddle won him a chance to make a swing round the circuit in the winter of '76, and he had about decided to give up school and keep with the races when his paternal grandmother, Cornelia Curtis, persuaded him again to stick by his books.

So he stuck it out in Topeka, getting all the education the public schools there offered and learning still more by a period of reporting on the North Topeka Times.

In this job he developed his contacts with people—a thing which was later to prove most valuable to him in politics. He came to know almost every man, woman and child in Shawnee county.

IN '79, when 19 years of age, the district court conferred the rights of majority upon him. So he became "his own man" at 19 instead of 21. In that same year he began the study of law with A. H. Case in Topeka. He was admitted to practice in '81, and in '84 made his first venture into politics, getting himself elected county prosecutor.

In this office, which he held for two terms, he made a record seldom equaled: He lost but three cases his first year, only one the second and none at all in his third and fourth years.

NEXT came Congress. First as representative, then as senator, he has served a total of 26 years in Washington—10 in the House and 16 in the Senate. In the House—perhaps because he had learned how to wield one as a jockey—he was assistant "whip." On coming to the Senate he was made assistant to Murray Crane of Massachusetts, then whip, and succeeded to the position of whip when Crane retired in 1911.

That position he held throughout the rest of his senatorial career until advanced to the Republican leadership following the death of Senator Lodge.

A taciturn, self-contained individual is Curtis, as befits his Indian ancestry. Swarthy of skin, powerful of build, with a square jaw and a firm hand, he looks able to lead by sheer force should persuasion fail.

In person and personality he is the exact opposite of the leader he succeeds.

But then Lodge could only trace his Americanism back to the Mayflower. Curtis' folks were here some centuries before that!

MAIL CHRISTMAS CHECKS TO-DAY

Approximately $14,000 Placed in Post Office Awaiting Delivery To Members.

Some folks shy at the Number 13. They say it is a hoodoo—brings bad luck in its train. Maybe so! Maybe not! Anyway there are some thousand people in and around Middlesboro, and even as far off as Lynch, whom it would be hard to convince that there was anything to the old superstition about the Number 13.

They are the 1924 Christmas Club members, for approximately $15,000 in Christmas checks are in the postoffice today awaiting delivery. THIRTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS! A neat little sum, it's not? And the nice thing about it is that no one person has a monopoly on it—that Christmas in hundreds of homes will be made merrier because of letters that Sam will deliver to them with "Join our Christmas Club" in the upper left hand corner of the envelope.

Nannie Miller leads again! What about that, White Folks? A Christmas check of $18.00 scribbled out over the wash tub! Not a white collar, soft-hand job, is it? It hasn't been easy sailing for Nannie this year. Sickness, sorrow, and even death have paid their respects to this colored wash-woman, but in spite of these hindrances, she is still at the top!

There are scores of others who have built up accounts of which they may well be proud. A young man opened an account of $127.50, the first payment being ten cents. By regular saving he soon paid that up, and took another for the same amount, this time beginning with the largest payment, $5.00 and decreasing. That he finished, too, and the result is that today Uncle Sam hands him two checks of $127.50 each.

Can YOU save? Maybe you can, maybe you can't. It's not for us to say. But we will guarantee that if you will get into the Christmas Club and MAKE yourself keep up the payments, you will find that you CAN.

Drop in Citizens Bank and Trust Company the first opportunity you have and make a start on that check you want to receive next December.

Oxford To Be Home For Silver Foxes

LONDON, Dec. 10—England's first venture in silver fox farming is to get under way shortly, and already 20 pairs of foxes have been brought here from Canada and installed on a plot of ground near Oxford.

The 40 animals, which will be used for breeding purposes, are valued at $10,000. The promoter of the enterprise, a former Canadian army officer, believes that the climate of England is ideally suited to the rearing of silver foxes, and hopes to expand his farm to include several hundred foxes within the next year or so.

SANTA CLAUS CORNER

Dear Santa Claus:—
I do not want very much this Christmas. I want a doll and a doll buggy.

Your Little Girl,
Ada Geager.

Dear Santa Claus:—
I am eight years old. I want the second grade. I want a doll bed and a painting set and a train and candy and fruits.

Good-by, Dear Old Santa,
Anna Louise Nagle.

Dear Santa Claus:—
Bring me a little train, an airplane, an little fire engine and that is all. Please bring Charles Haynes a little baby buggy too.

Your little friend,
Fern Johnson.

Dear Santa Claus:—
Will you please bring me a cap buster and some caps, a pair of gloves, a train and pony and lots of candy and fruits Dear Santa, I am a real good boy about Christmas.

The Citizens Bank and Trust Company is beginning to pay out money to the members of their Christmas Club.

It would surprise almost anyone to see who the members of the Christmas Club are and is an interesting study in many ways. Almost every walk in life is represented in the line at the Christmas Club window. Here we find the business man rubbing elbows with the newsboy, the stenographer, the clerk and the working man in overalls. All are money-earners and the plan or system of depositing a specified sum each week for fifty weeks appealed to them and today they have a nice sum to their credit as a reward for their economy.

Not all of this money will be spent for Christmas needs; indeed a large part of it will be at once redeposited in a regular savings account for future use.

The Christmas Club is now a definite department of all progressive banks and last year over three hundred million dollars was saved by members of the clubs in the country. This year it will be almost doubled.

The plan is very popular with the wage-earners, for it enables them to lay aside a small sum each week which is available just at the season when it is wanted and needed. Everyone who can deposit 25 cents a week or more is invited to joined the club and all are welcomed and form one happy family.

If any think the ho-ho-ho idea is gaining any foothold in this country, all he needs to do is to watch the line at the Christmas Club windows in the banks, for here he will find the rank and file of our glorious country helping to build it up instead of attending secret meetings in some cellar helping to tear it down.

Use National Parks For Winter Sports

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(AP). Growing popularity of the country's national parks, and their use for winter sports as well as for summer vacation visits, are combining to make the parks self-supporting, it was pointed out in the annual report today of the National Park Service.

The parks are being recognized, said the report, as ideal winter playgrounds, with exceptional facilities for skiing, snowshoeing and tobogganing.

Revenue from national parks and monuments last year totaled $663,886, more than $150,000 more than for the previous year. The travel to them increased materially over the 1923 record-breaking visiting lists in spite of adverse conditions such as quarantines and forest fires.

An urgent need for extending the boundaries of several of the national parks was emphasized, particularly that of the Yellowstone southward to include the Teton Mountains and the area which is the breeding ground for the Yellowstone moose; that of Crater Lake park northward to include the scenic Diamond Lake region, and that of Sequoia park to include Mount Whitney and some of the Kings River country.

The greatest thing about cool weather is all those funny named new soft drinks are gone

YOU KNOW IN ADVANCE

Dodge Brothers Motor Car owners know in advance what any service operation will cost.

But they do not pay in advance for service they may never need.

That is because Dodge Brothers do not believe in so-called "free" service, which simply means that the selling price of the car is so inflated that the extra profit is sufficient to cover "free" service costs.

Under the "free" service policy, every owner pays a maintenance fee for the upkeep of every other owner's car—and he pays this fee in advance.

Under Dodge Brothers policy, the owner is not so penalized. He pays a fair, predetermined price for service, but he pays only as he needs it—and he pays only for his own.

Rifle Enthusiasts Hold Elections

On last Tuesday at 7:15 a group of rifle enthusiasts met and organized under the name of the Middlesboro Rifle Club. The following officers were elected: Executive officer, August Fischer; President, Wilbur Crosswell; Vice-president, Errol Fryer; Secretary, Charles Hoffer; Treasurer, Earl Welshimer. The membership of the club is almost twenty, and a special effort will be made in the next few days to reach that number. Steps will be taken at once to affiliate the club with the National Rifle Association, under the provisions of which this club can secure rifles and ammunition from the government without cost. It will also be in position to purchase ammunition at wholesale rates. Targets will also be furnished by the government. Besides the equipment furnished by the National organization, a number of medals are awarded to those who excel in the various types of matches.

The club's range is on the east end of town. It has an excellent location and affords the very best facilities for practice. One shoot has already been held. The next will take place Saturday, Dec. 13, at 1:30 p. m. Graded targets will be used and accurate records of all shooting will be kept. The executive committee, consisting of the officers of the organization, will make plans at once for this shoot. Arrangements will be made for indoor practice as soon as possible. It is also hoped that a junior organization can be effected, since only those sixteen or over can be admitted to the club.

Girl Scouts Make Remarkable Record

Red Rose Troop No. 1, was registered with National Girl Scout Headquarters in the early part of April 1922 with nine charter members, Mrs. W. C. Stair as Captain.

The troop holds a number of honors and at present has a membership of fifteen registered scouts and one girl in training. Many members have dropped out since the organization of the troop and new ones have registered. Only one charter member is affiliated with the troop at the present time. This member is Miss Hazel Johns, and according to the record of the Troop Secretary, Scout Johns was known as the Baby Scout of the troop.

This was during the camp held at Bohio in the summer of 1922. She is Middlesboro's pioneer Girl Scout, patrol leader of the first patrol, holds one of the highest Girl Scout honors—the Medal of Merit. Only three of these medals have been awarded to members of the Middlesboro Girl Scouts, the two other girls to receive them being, Miss Helen Lewis of the Red Rose Troop and Miss Elizabeth Cleland of the Blue Bird Troop. Another medal won by a former scout of the Red Rose Troop was the silver life saving medal presented to Miss Ethel Allen who saved the life of one of the younger scouts while in camp during the summer of 1923. As 1924 comes to a close the Red Rose Troop announces another honor won by one of its members, Miss Nola Essary. Miss Essary today is Middlesboro's first and only first class scout. Some of the badges won by the work of Miss Essary can be seen on display in Varilla's window. The knot board shown in the window was designed and completed by Scout Essary. It is expected that other members will earn First Class Badges soon. It not only takes time but hard study to enable one to pass on these tests for different badges of merit.

The weekly troop meetings are open to all who wish to attend and see what Girl Scouts of this city are doing in the way to work and fair play.

Within the last few months, 21 of the Moody students have sailed to foreign fields under the direction of 27 boards. Forty-five are now under appointment, with as many more having made application. French Cars Use Four Wheel Brakes

PARIS, Dec. 10.—(AP).—France lays claim to giving the automobile to the world and guards jealously that honor, whether others concede her claim or not. Yet the tremendous number of cars in the United States obliges the French to recognize America as the automobile country of the world.

France feels, however, that she originates the new idea for the gas-wagon. The war interrupted industrial development here and the American maker developed his car in the interval. But in the last three years the French car has been improved strikingly; French engineers apparently have made marvellous progress.

The four-wheel brake has been generalized in France and the "servo-frein," the mechanism designed to apply the brake pressure in direct proportion to the need for it, is now used on all the higher-priced cars, both of them to a greater extent than in the United States.
